Lydia and Julie demo the Snowflake book

November Program News

Lydia and Julie did a excellent job of teaching us how to construct the cute snowflake book They were super organized! We all had books to take home and ideas to share with others. Thanks!

December - NO MEETING

Enjoy the holidays with friends and family!

Spring Exhibit - IAO (Individual Artists of Oklahoma)

I just received an email from Cindy Mason. The IAO is no longer hosting off-site exhibits. We are canceled. I appreciate the warm reception from all of you who wanted to participate. Hopefully, there will be other opportunities. If you know of any, please let me know.

JANUARY MEETING

We have our annual “holiday card exchange” and party in January. We meet at a member’s home, share a pot luck dinner and exchange our handmade Christmas cards.

We are invited over to Kelly Brewer’s home this year. Her address is 9809 Horseshoe Road, Oklahoma City. The directions are, turn North off of Northwest Highway on MacArthur. Off MacArthur turn west on Britton Road. First intersection, turn north on Horseshoe Road to 9809. See Map below.

PETER THORNTON'S WORKSHOP update

“Casual and Inventive Caps For All!”

My goodness! Peter’s workshop was fabulous! He took us back to basics and then helped us find freedom with the roman alphabet. Everyone seemed to be pleased with what they took away from our weekend. Peter was generous with his instruction and humor. We hope to have him back in the future. If you miss this one, be sure and take the next!
